Remember: Building Displays to Promote a Prominent Collection in the Community

Heather Back, Student Success and Education Librarian
Beth Anderson, Dayton Holocaust Resource Center Supervisor

Dayton Holocaust Resource Center (DHRC)

An education, non-profit with the goal of supporting K-12 teachers and schools’ inclusion of the Holocaust into their curriculum.

Reflect

Due to the sensitive content of the collection, Counseling and Wellness Services created and sourced resources to support those working with the materials. Similar materials were added to the display, encouraging viewers to reflect on their experiences with the content and seek additional support if needed.

Discussion questions are added to the display's LibGuide to encourage self-reflection while interacting with the materials.

Through Their Eyes
Holocaust Remembrance Month Display Series

In April, the local Jewish community remembers Yom HaShoah to commemorate the 6 million Jews murdered in the Holocaust and the support of rescuers and liberators. The University Libraries commemorate Holocaust Remembrance Month by sharing resources within the collection with our multi-location displays.

Through Their Eyes

Materials created or sourced for addition to the physical display are laminated, tagged, and added to an organization system for future use.

The sourced materials are organized digitally in the team’s OneDrive for long-term storage and findability. The physical materials have the same organizational structure as the digital material.

Dr. Renate Frydman is a Holocaust survivor educating others about the Holocaust and ways to combat hate. She founded and directs the DHRC, housed in the Charles and Renate Frydman Educational Resource Center at Paul Laurence Dunbar Library.

LibGuide with Reviewed Literature and more!
guides.libraries.wright.edu/ALAO22Remember